The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Saturday March 12. to Tuesday March 15. 1742.

Prague, February 26.

PUblick Notice has been given here, that the Queen our Sovereign had fixed the 11th Day of May for receiving the Homage of the States of the Kingdom of Bohemia, in this City, and the Day following, being the 12th, for her Majeſty's Coronation. Our former Governor, Count Ogilvie, is returned hither from Vienna, and re-eſtabliſhed in his Command. The Enemy having diminiſhed their Loſs in Bohemia, to the Number of a few hundred Men, we have had a true Specification publiſhed here of the Priſoners taken from Marſhal Belleiſle's Army ſince the firſt of November, not reckoning thoſe that were killed either by the Cold, or by our Soldiers in the Purſuit, and the Number of the ſaid Priſoners is, four Colonels, three Lieutenant Colonels, three Serjeant Majors, one Commiſſary, 65 Captains, 114 Lieutenants, 11 Enſigns and Corporals, and 4858 common Soldiers, in all 5057.

Vienna, March 6, N. S. On Saturday Morning, the 2d Inſtant, his Excellency Marſhal Khevenhuller arrived here from Bavaria, and waited immediately upon her Majeſty, of whom he had a long Audience. The Danube being now entirely free from Ice, and the Bridges over it rebuilt, ſome of the Queen's Harbingers are already ſet out for Prague to provide Lodgings there, and upon the Road, for the Court. Several other Diſpoſitions are making for that Journey, and many of the Nobility and other Perſons of Diſtinction are ſetting out every Day.

Hambourg, March 12, N. S. The warlike Preparations in Denmark are purſued with great Vigour. Orders are given to erect Magazines of Corn, &c. in ſeveral Places of the Daniſh Holſtein, and ſuch Carriages to be held in Readineſs as ſhall be neceſſary to tranſport the heavy Artillery.

Hamburgh, March 19, N. S. We learn from Dreſden, that during the Abſence of ſeveral of the Auſtrian and French Generals, who have been called to Vienna and Verſailles, to aſſiſt at the Councils of War, which are to take into Conſideration the reſpective Plans of Operation for the enſuing Campaign, the Armies in Bavaria and in the Upper Palatinate, as well as the Troops which are garriſoned in Egra, and thoſe which form a Kind of Blockade before that Fortreſs, remain in a State of Inaction.

Copenhagen, March 16, N. S. The Fleet is now in good Forwardneſs, and Orders are actually gone to Norway and the Coaſts of Jutland and Holſtein to bring hither Five thouſand Seamen, who, together with thoſe eſtabliſhed here, and others to be had about this Iſland, are thought ſufficient to man the Squadron appointed to be fitted out.

Liege, March 19, N. S. General Pontpietin is upon his March from Lierre with the 2d Column of his Britannick Majeſty's Hanoverian Troops, whereof the Regiment of Soubiron arrived Yeſterday at St. Tron upon the Frontier of this Principality, and To-morrow that Regiment will purſue its March in order to paſs the Maeze at Roermunde.

Paris, March 20. Two Battallions of the French Guards began their March Yeſterday for Metz and Saar Louis, and the reſt are to follow by Diviſions every third Day.

Hague, March 22, N. S. Baron Mardenfeld ſet out this Morning for Helvoetſluys, in order to embark To-morrow on board the Packet-boat for London. Sir Everard Fawkener, who arrived here the Day before Yeſterday, is alſo preparing to do the like on board the Packet-boat next Wedneſday. The Deputation of the States of Zeland, conſiſting of one Member from each of the ſix Towns, and the Secretary of the Province, having notified their Arrival to the States of Holland, were Yeſterday complimented on that Account by a Deputation of this laſt Province. In the Morning at 11 of the Clock, Count Waſſenaer Obdam, Preſident of the Body of the Nobles of Holland, aſſiſted by ten Members of the Towns of that Province, which were preceeded by 14 Meſſengers of of State, went in 11 Coaches to wait upon the Deputies of Zeland at their Lodgings, from whence they conducted them to the Court, where the Guards of their Noble and High Mightineſſes were under Arms, with their Drums beating and Colours flying. Theſe Gentlemen being come to the Gallery, were there received and introduced into the Chamber of the States by two other Deputies of the Aſſembly, where they proceeded to the Election of a Greffier of the High Court of Juſtice, and the Choice fell upon M. Corneille Gerlinck one of the two Counſellors, Penſionaries of the Town of Haerlem. Afterwards the Deputies of Zeland were conducted back to their Lodgings with the ſame Attendants and the ſame Ceremony as before. The States of Holland diſpoſed Yeſterday of the Place of Counſellor to the Court of Juſtice, in favour of Monſieur Meerman, of the Regency of the Town of Rotterdam, and filled up alſo the military Offices that were vacant in their Department.

Admiralty-Office, March 14, 1742.

Theſe are to give Notice, That a General Court of the Governors of the Charity for the Relief of poor Widows of Commiſſion and Warrant Officers of the Royal Navy, will be held at this Office on Thurſday the 31ſt of this Month, in order to chuſe two Vice-Preſidents and fifteen Aſſiſtants for the Year enſuing.

General Poſt Office, London, March 10, 1742.
